In 1702, Hochmann was imprisoned in the castle at Detmold by Count zur Lippe-Detmold for over-free statements about the state churches. As a condition to regaining his liberty he wrote out his confession of faith, which may be taken as a statement of the principles held in common by himself and Mack. This document, next to the Bible, was the most important influence that led to the organization of the German Baptist or Dunker church. Because of its importance and direct bearing upon our early history, I have translated the article entire, and will here insert it for the benefit of the reader. 1 Copy of a Pietistic Confession of Faith. After it had been announced to me yesterday evening that his Gracious Lordship had assented to my dismissal, on condition that I beforehand would give a short confession of my faith, I have herewith prepared...
