Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Nationalism and Catholicism It must have struck every thoughtful person during the course of the recent war that there is a remarkable conflict of opinion about war and a soldier s life. This conflict is seen in all sorts of degrees on the one side and the other; but in its most extreme form it exhibits two ethical estimates so widely different as to place the waging of war and the life of a soldier alternatively among the highest and the basest of human occupations. The disagreement is the more notable and exceptional because its influence extends to the opinions and language of very good men. This is exceptional because, while good men often differ violently about theology, on ethical questions it is more usual to find that they come to conclusions substantially identical even from different premises.
